CROW INDIAN LANDS NEXT.

More Than a Million Acres in Montana Will Probably Be Opened to Settlement.

The United States government still has thousands upon thousands of acres of land for homeseekers and closely following upon the heels of the opening of the rich Indian lands of the Kiowas, comes the news that it is more than likely that the next lands to be opened for settlers will be a part of the reservation of the Crow Indians in Montana, land which J. E. Edwards, the government agent of the Crow reservation, says embraces over a million acres of much finer land than anything yet thrown open by the government. During the last session of congress an act opening 1,500,000 acres held by the Crows passed the senate, but was not reached by the house. It will come up during the next session of the national lawmakers, however, and Edwards expresses the opinion that it will pass. There are now 2,000 Crows on the reservation, which contains over 4,000,000 acres of land, the tract being much larger than the Indians can use, so thousands of acres of it are going to waste. The bill opening a part of the reservation for settlement provides for the purchase of the 1,500,000 acres from the Indians at $1 per acre, thus enriching their tribe to the extent of $1,500,000, and at the same time leaving 1,200 for every man, woman and child in the tribe. The bill provides how the fortune of over a million is to be spent, and $250,000 is to be set aside for the purchase of two-year-old heifers to be paroled out among the Indians. The bill provides for schools and hospitals, for the completion of the irrigation system, and for the deposit of the remainder in the United States treasury so that each Indian will draw $1 per month. The Indians have agreed to the plan and, in fact, approve of it, so that it is not likely to be more than another year or two before there will be another rush of homeseekers. In the meantime Kansas offers more and better homes than any reservation or state in the world.

The course of study is as strong as that of almost any of the private colleges and normals.

Gun Club Score.

The Gun club held an informal shoot Tuesday afternoon in honor of Andy McCormick, a former member of the club, who was in town for a day. The poor showing which the score reveals should not be taken by the reader that the club was at its best; they were only practicing. The score:

St. Francis 13; Goodland 5.

The St. Francis ball team won from the local nine on the Goodland grounds Tuesday afternoon. The game was played in quick time, and both teams put up fast, snappy ball at times. The contest was close during the first few innings, after which St. Francis forged ahead and won handily, although the game was more interesting than the score would indicate.

St. Francis 13; Goodland 5.

The St. Francis team played the Rulston club at Rulston Wednesday.

Score: St. Francis, 34; Rulston, 78.

For Sale.

Then and Now.

In days long ago (in this sixties you know) when Grandpa was walking she held her skirt so.

What would she say if she saw girls to-day with skirts clutched so tightly they look like this way.

WILL BUILD A STAND PIPE.

Rock Island Unloading Material for the Foundation of the Structure—Work Will Be Commenced at Once.

For some time it has been rumored that the Rock Island would build a stand pipe at Goodland. The report was confirmed yesterday when several cars of gravel and a car of cement arrived for the foundation and is now being unloaded. A gang of workmen have also arrived to commence on the job.

The location of the stand pipe will be just west of the wells by the machine shop. The wooden tanks when the water is lowered in them dry out at the top and leak badly when again filled, causing a large waste of water. The stand pipe will be made of iron plates and this wastage will consequently be avoided, besides the enlarging of water capacity.

The farmer faced the facts at last—Which might have been much fodder.

"What shall I do next fall for feed?" Plead this poor plicated plodder.

"Winds blowing up what stock will feed, For the blow's almost killed fodder!"
